MRS. COBURN MURDERED AT PESCADERO

The little town of Pescadero was thrown into the throes of excitement last Wednesday morning when it became known that Mrs. Sarah Satira Coburn, the widow of the late Loren Coburn, the eccentric millionaire, was murdered at her home some time last morning or early in the night by some unknown person. Mrs. Coburn was killed, apparently, without being awakened. The murderer took a small piece of wood from a box beside the fireplace and struck a blow which fractured her skull. Her hands were crossed upon her breast as if she had been sleeping peacefully. When she was found in the morning the imbecile stepson was standing beside her, shaking her, and muttering, "Wake up, sweetheart!" He was alone in the house with the aged woman. Joe Quailie, a ranch hand and A. J. Stirling were the first to enter the Coburn home and they at once notified the district attorney and the sheriff who were soon at the scene of the tragedy. Sheriff Sheehan took charge of the premises on his arrival. A thorough search of the house was made. In Wallace Coburn's room was found the will of Mrs. Coburn executed last February. It bequeathed to the son $10,000; to Mrs. Harrison, the companion, $2,500; to Mrs. E. A. Eaton, $2,000; to Attorney John L. McNab, $1,000; and divided the balance of her half of the estate between George Joseph Barrin of Monterey and C. H. Wideman. They were beneficiaries under the will of Loren Coburn, but because of the threatened contest by Azro, the nephew, had relinquished their claims under the terms of a settlement which averted the contest. Wednesday afternoon Coroner W. A. Brooke held an inquest. After a searching investigation the jury brought in a verdict that Mrs. Coburn came to her death from a blow on the head with a stick of wood in the hands of some unknown person. There was no evidence attaching the blame to Wallace Coburn, the imbecile. Wallace Coburn had been incompetent from boyhood and had always resided at the Coburn home. Mrs. Coburn was his aunt. When the first Mrs. Coburn was dying she requested her sister to always care for the boy and she has carried out the trust faithfully. That the imbecile stepson had displayed violent tendencies numerous times when crossed, was brought out at the inquest. Mrs. Margaret L. Harrison, Mrs. Coburn's companion for the past year and nurse for the son, testified that he threatened her life with a stove poker at one time and was unusually violent when crossed. She pointed out that as Mrs. Coburn was asleep she could not have crossed her stepson. At Pescadero the opinion prevails that the foul murder was committed by some one other than the imbecile stepson, but when asked what the motive would be in killing the aged lady no one seems to give a proper answer. A large number of detectives are at work on the case trying to find a clue but up to late last evening none was found. Wallace Coburn has been taken to the Gardiner Sanatorium at Belmont and is being observed by medical experts. The aged lady married Loren Coburn about ten years ago, at the time his relatives were endeavoring to declare him incompetent. He died last November, leaving a will that bequeathed the bulk of his property to the widow. A contest was threatened but before proceedings began a compromise was effected. By the terms of this settlement Mrs. Coburn received her half and Azro Coburn, who was making the contest, agreed to abandon all attempts with the agreement that the other half of the estate was to be held in trust during the son's life and that he was to receive three-fourths of it upon the son's death. Azro Coburn is on his way from Massachusetts as fast as he can come. He is expected here on Monday next. He has a number of detectives already on the case as have other relatives and attorneys interested in the estate. Word was received yesterday from Pescadero that there were not sufficient hotels in the little town to accommodate the numerous hangers-on who were swarming into the village. On Thursday the big safe in the Coburn home was opened and $1610 were found in it. Evidently robbery was not the motive of the murder and as the crime could not be laid to Wallace Coburn, then who is the culprit? Mrs. Coburn was in her eightieth year and came as a young woman to Pescadero from her home in Maine. She had a sister, Mrs. E. A. Eaton, the first Mrs. Coburn, and was therefore an aunt as well as a stepmother of the imbecile son. She had been a housekeeper in the Coburn home before her sister's death. When Coburn married her he gave as his reason the fact that she had been good to the son who is 63 years old. The latest tragedy in the Coburn affairs that has occupied the attention of the public for a half century will be, most likely, the last chapter in the career of the late millionaire whose money was his curse and whose greed was his dominating spirit in life.

On Thursday Judge Buck made an order distributing the estate of Katharina Wahl, deceased. After all the debts and expenses of administration were paid there remained the sum of $10,000 to be distributed. This sum is divided among eleven heirs of the deceased, six sons and five grand-nieces. H. C. Tuchen and Mr. Schilling were the executors of the last will and testament of Mrs. Wahl. Ross and Ross were the attorneys for the executors. Mrs. Wahl was a pioneer woman of Redwood City and at one time was wealthy. The principal part of the estate was the Wahl building on Main street which was recently purchased by Mrs. Mary Rice for $20,000. The building was numbered 100.

PLATT-LOW CO. FILE ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

On Thursday the Platt-Low Preserving company filed a copy of articles of incorporation in the county clerk's office. The concern was incorporated on March 4, 1915 with a capital stock of $200,000 divided into 2000 shares at a par value of $100 each. The amount of stock subscribed was $700 by the following stockholders who subscribed one share each: H. C. Morris, Oakland; A. H. Higgins, Oakland; H. M. Barry, Oakland; W. G. Cook, Oakland; George W. Platt, San Francisco; David Low, San Jose, and E. A. Wilder, San Francisco. The principal place of business of the concern is at San Jose. The concern conducts a large cannery at Santa Clara. It recently purchased two blocks of land south of town on which a large cannery is to be erected very soon. The company will make a specialty of canning vegetables. It is one of the largest concerns of its kind in the state. They will employ over 300 persons in the local plant when in full working order.

DR. MCCARTHY HOME TO SELL FOR $10,500 George W. Hall of San Mateo, trustee of Francis C. McCarthy, 13-year-old son of Dr. Charles F. and Mrs. Mayella Ann McCarthy, divorced, Monday was given authority by Superior Judge George H. Buck, to sell, for $10,500, the late home of the McCarthy on Santa Inez avenue, San Mateo. According to a recent petition of Hall for such authorization, the home was going to ruin and he coming non-income producing. He set forth that it was for the boy's best interests that the place be sold so that he could benefit thereby. Hall also asserted that a prospective purchaser was in view, but his name was not revealed.

FINAL DECREE GRANTED Judge Buck on Thursday granted a final decree of divorce to Bertha J. Purdy from her husband, Edmund Purdy. This interlocutory decree was granted on May 31, 1918 on the ground of extreme cruelty.

tion of the public for a half century will be, most likely, the last chapter in the career of the late millionaire whose money was his curse and whose greed was his dominating spirit in life.

DR. NORTHCOTT TRIAL TO START MONDAY

The trial of Dr. Ephraim Northcott, the San Franciscan, accused of murder in connection with the death of Inez Reed, whose body was found in a lonely ravine near the Spring Valley lake on the Halfmoon Bay road last April, will commence in the superior court net Monday. The case promises to be one of the most sensational that has ever taken place in the criminal court of the county. The prosecution has a large array of witnesses to be examined. The defense also has a large number. It is believed it will take all week to try the case. A big array of lawyers will appear for the defendant, they are Ross and Ross of this city; J. R. Cunningham and H. H. McPike of San Francisco. H. C. Morris will be represented by District Attorney Franklin Swart and Attorney Lyon. It was current gossip about the court house yesterday afternoon that the case would not go on next Monday. A jury had not been drawn. The district attorney was in San Francisco therefore direct information could not be had.

CITY TRUSTEES IN REGULAR SESSION MONDAY NIGHT

Attorney Savage, representing Jensen Bros., bond brokers, addressed the board relative to a former bond issue which his clients bought. It appears that the issue was for $120,000, ten percent of this amount was paid by the property owners when the bonds were issued and the remainder in nine equal annual installments, thus the principal and interest would mature in nine years. The bond called for ten yearly payments, thus the bonding company had the interest for one year. The bonding company was paid in full with the exception of the one year's interest. Inasmuch as the company had been paid the principal and interest in nine years, City Attorney Mansfield stated that it would not be right to ask the property owners to pay the additional amount. The matter of clearing up the records of Mrs. Donohue on Grant avenue, was brought up again. It appears that these premises are in a filthy, unsightly condition. The matter was referred to Judge Mansfield for his consideration.

Trustee Ryan stated that he had investigated the matter and reported that the property was in bad condition and that something should be done. The canvass of the votes of the present bond election showed a good record for all propositions, as was given in these columns last week. The board opened bids for a 150 gallon asphalt kettle, with pump and spray attachments for the street department as follows: Spears-Wells Machinery Co., 150 gallon kettle, $386; they also put in second bid for a 65-gallon patching kettle for $300. A. L. Young Machinery Co., 150 gallon kettle, $575.

On motion the matter of purchasing the kettle was laid over until the next regular meeting. The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. asked permission to erect poles on Lincoln avenue which was granted. There being no objections to the (Wood Ordinance, passed at the former meeting, the board ordered the street superintendent to proceed to destroy the weeds in various parts of the town. Mayor Mable reported that the Pratt-Low canning company desired to have the streets in their tract declared closed according to an agreement with the board, and on motion the city engineer and street superintendent was instructed to prepare the necessary documents for the closing of the streets.

Trustee Ryan brought up the matter of parking automobiles in the downtown district. He suggested that the street superintendent paint diagonal squares along the business streets so that the automobiles could drive in to the curb and back out without trouble and at the same time the machines would not take up so much room in the streets. On motion it was decided to try the scheme on Broadway from the postoffice to Main street and on Main street to Stambaugh street. THOMAS WALL ESTATE APPRAISED BY SCHABERG H. W. Schaberg, appraiser of the estate of Thomas Wall, deceased, has filed his inventory and appraisal in the county clerk's office. The estate consists of cash on hand amounting to $700, a parcel of land at Millbrae appraised at $1000 and personal effects appraised at $25. C. J. Hoke is the attorney for the estate.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

R. Whitehead returned during the week from a visit to his old home at Goshen, Indiana, the land of milk and honey. This was Mr. Whitehead's first visit to his boyhood home in ten years. Naturally he found many changes about the place, the friends of his youth had gone to other localities while many had crossed the divide never to return. Mr. Whitehead had three brothers in the war, one of whom is still with the army of occupation in Germany. Mr. Whitehead found many people in the east who were anxious to know all about California, intending to locate in the state. The Redwood City ball team added another victory to their already long list of successful games last Sunday when they defeated a nine from South San Francisco by a score of 2 to 2. It was the best exhibition of good ball playing ever seen in Redwood City. But few errors were made on either side. There will be no game on the local field tomorrow as the players desire to enjoy the Charminga festivities at Halfmoon Bay. They will leave this evening for the scene of pleasure. During the week David M. Flynn, local agent for the Ford automobile, sold a touring car to Umberto Emanuel and a runabout to George E. Stafford and company. Miss Camilla Stafford departed today for the Yosemite to spend her vacation of two weeks. Miss Stafford will be accompanied to the valley by relatives residing in San Francisco. There have been more visitors to the Yosemite this year than ever before in the history of the valley. Mrs. Pulipher, known in her youth as Carry Beal, and a former Redwood City girl, but who has resided in the east for a great many years, has decided to make her future home here. Mrs. Pulipher expects to leave the east soon and will be accompanied by her husband and son, who is a newspaper man, for Redwood City. The Puliphers are to purchase a home here where many a former Mrs. Pulipher's school-mates still reside. Grover McNamara, a former Redwood City young man, was united in marriage on Thursday evening in St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, to Miss Mabel, a Monrovia, young lady of that city. Mr. McNamara is prominent in the business circles of San Francisco. T. M. Barton, for a long time assistant Wells Fargo agent here, has resigned his position to become a machinist. His place has been taken by Clarence Hallett, young son of Harry Hallett of the Portola Meat Market. The county board of education will meet today to prepare questions to be given at the diploma examinations to take place within two weeks throughout the county. The eighth grade pupils of the grammar school will take these examinations. Lieutenant B. H. Weeks accompanied by Lieutenant Argyle Campbell and other recruiting officers will be here today at 10 o'clock to secure recruits for the army. About noon they will be followed by the Forty-fourth Infantry band of thirty pieces from the Presidio. A concert will be given by the band at the court house grounds at 2:30. Another concert is to be given in the evening. The soldiers will be entertained by the local Red Cross Society. Lieutenant Argyle Campbell was formerly assistant district attorney of San Jose. Roy McAuliffe, who recently returned from overseas, has been appointed deputy engineer under City Engineer Dimmitt. Mr. McAuliffe was with the engineers who constructed the government docks at Bordeaux.

WOODSIDE NOTES

Ole Johnson has closed the Family Meat Market here. He retired from business owing to ill health after a long business career in Woodside. Woodside will now be without a meat market. Eugene J. Reed returned to his home here during the week after an absence of 21 months spent in the army. He was recently discharged from the aviation branch of the service at Camp Lewis, Mr. Reed did not get across the ocean although he would like to have gone and participated in the battles which put the boche out of commission. Mr. Reed is an aviator of skill and ability. He will reside in San Mateo. Some good strings of trout have been caught during the week in the local streams. Don't forget to take the Times-Gazette with you on your vacation.

AVIATION SCHOOL WILL OPEN NEXT WEEK

The Redwood City Aviation school which was closed by the war department last year on account of the war will reopen early next week with a large class of young flyers. Several birdmen who saw service overseas will be instructors at the school. During the week Professor Frank Bryan secured a lease from the owners of the aviation field and has been putting the ground in shape for flying. Flights will be made over the field tomorrow. For two weeks mechanics have been engaged in repairing the aeroplanes and all is in readiness for the school to open early next week. Accommodations have been made for fifty students. The course is three months. The field was first established by the late Silas Christofferson who lost his life in a fight there in 1915.

STANFORD PAGEANT

California history of this peninsula will live again in the pageant "Service" that is to be given at the Stanford University, June 14. With a historical background, such as Stanford offers, and members participating, who were intimately associated with the history making factors of the peninsula, the pageant has unusual advantages over the many pageants that have been produced throughout the state. The presence of Dr. David Starr Jordan, re-enacting the inauguration scene, can be duplicated in no other important university. In the dedication of the first American flag on foreign soil, by the Stanford Ambulance unit, the very individuals that have passed through the actual experiences, will take part. From the coming of the Padres, with Father Sierra, breaking in upon an Indian ritual, and Portola's arrival, the action of the pageant carried up through the better courts scene, on past the conception and creation of an Alma Mater, and through to the assembling to the call of arms of the students, in the R. O. T. C., S. C. and N. R. T. C. units. Work done by the Committee for Relief in Belgium, will be reviewed in the C. R. B. scene, and everything that could contribute towards making a comprehensive and adequate history of this part of the country, and relative to the founding of the university, has been included in the pageant. Obviously, not all the material available, has been used on account of the wealth of material of Stanford history; only a few of the most typical of the main incidents are retained. Even so the ten scenes make a spectacle of an hour and a half in length, in which the cast of four hundred persons will be used. Redwood City has been well represented in the pageant by the active work of Miss Marjory Bailey and Miss Ruth Yanz. Both have been bending every effort towards making the pageant a success. Participants in the pageant, include not only the university, but the Palo Alto community. Palo Alto organizations, such as the Native Sons, and many of the older residents who knew Peter Cortis, and other personages of the old days, are taking an active part in the spectacle itself. Garnet Homes, who is coaching the pageant, as produced by the English Club, is enthusiastic over the unique setting and historical background of the Stanford spirit that is to be depicted. For its staging the track oval will be used, the end of it being well adapted to form a setting for the many colored historical scenes that the pageant affords. Tickets for the pageant are now on sale at the Ryan Drug Store, and may be obtained for $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

SAN CARLOS NOTES

Mrs. S. J. Mann and her daughter Mrs. Mary Mann Haley made the circuit around the bay from their home at 1212 Glen avenue, Berkeley, last Saturday calling on friends here and in Palo Alto.

Owing to the number of new homes going up here this summer the demand for building material has become so great that it has compelled the Fox-McNulty Lumber company to establish a branch yard in San Carlos where they are having material shipped in by car lots.

Mrs. E. S. Blackwell of San Francisco was the guest of Mrs. D. L. Stewart, on Decoration Day.

As all the other good movements San Carlos went over the top in the sale of Chautauqua tickets, having disposed of our quota without difficulty.

The government has sent literature and posters to the postoffice here to influence recruits to the air service of the government. Now is the time for our ambitious young men to rise quickly in the world.

The Southern Pacific company handled a third more business last month than any previous month since the agency was established.

Every one is pleased to learn that summer excursion rates to the various resorts have been restored and that they can now enjoy their outings at their favorite playgrounds without paying out their summer wages for car fare.

Contractor R. P. Harburt, Sr., has been awarded the contract for the construction of a handsome colonial home on the Captain Geo. H. Zeh property near the school house.

The grass fire which started on the hill near Geo. W. Phelps' home created considerable excitement here.

THE SUPERVISORS HOLD MEETING

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, June 2, at 10 a. m., the presiding present John MacBain presiding; T. L. Hickey, W. H. Brown, Jos. M. Francis and Dr. C. V. Thompson.

D. E. Watkins, representing the California State Automobile Association, appeared before the board in response to the communication that had been sent him requesting more definite information regarding the cost of the automobile signs that the association is planning to erect throughout the county and also the garbage drums that are to be placed in the different districts.

Watkins explained that the drums would be made of reinforced concrete and would be about two and one-half feet in diameter by three feet in height. They would cost the association about $4 to produce and would be sold to the county at a price of $2, provided the supervisors agreed to the placing of them where they were needed. He said that the drums would be furnished and installed at a cost of $4.50 each, with an additional charge of $2 for each extra sign placed on the same post.

Chairman MacBain suggested that Watkins put in writing the exact figures of the cost of the signs and the drums, so that the board could act more intelligently in the matter. Watkins agreed to have the agreement ready before the adjournment of the board.

District Attorney Swart addressed the board and stated that the deed to the O'Grady property at Beresford for the new county hospital had been prepared and was now in the hands of the abstractor for the payment of the purchase money. Chairman MacBain stated that there was available in the hospital fund the sum of $14,750 for the payment on the purchase price and the balance would be available on the next tax levy.

Keyron O'Grady, the owner of the property, who was present at the meeting, at the suggestion of District Attorney Swart, agreed to accept this amount as part payment and the balance of $8,000 the first of January, 1920, agreeing at the same time to turn over the deed to the property subject to the payment of the latter amount. District Attorney Swart said he would have the necessary papers prepared before the adjournment of the board.

A communication was received from the board of supervisors of San Francisco, enclosing a copy of the resolution adopted by that body endorsing the $40,000,000 State Highway bond issue that is to be submitted to the people of California at a special election July 1st.

A telegram was received from the Public Welfare League of the above board, stating that a number of counties in the state were making appropriations to assist in the campaign for the bonds and asking the San Mateo county supervisors to make an appropriation.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, the board voted to appropriate the sum of $500 from the advertising fund toward the campaign.

A communication was received from Tilla Wise and others, calling attention to the condition of the road leading from King mountain road in the Third Township to Redwood Park and asking that action be taken by the board to have the thoroughfare properly repaired.

The board, on motion of Brown, seconded by Francis, directed Mrs. Nash, the clerk, to write to the signers of the communication and urge them to get behind the $40,000,000 bond issue, which if they carry would take care of their problem by giving them a paved road.

District Attorney Swart presented at this time the deed from Keyron O'Grady and his wife, Margaret O'Grady, for the county hospital property, together with the agreement making provision for the payment of the $5,000 balance to be paid on or before January 6, 1920.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, the deed was accepted and ordered recorded and the county auditor was directed to draw a warrant in the sum of $14,750 against the County Hospital fund to take care of the first payment.

Chairman MacBain stated that he had had a verbal request from Timothy Hopkins of Menlo Park for a permit to keep four small dogs on his premises. On motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, a temporary permit was granted Hopkins until he has had time to make application in the regular way and in accordance with the provisions of the new dog ordinance.

Bids for the surfacing of portions of Second and Third avenues in the San Mateo City Homestead, Second Township, were received from Edward M. Chadbourne and Blanchard Crocker and Howell, and on motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, the same were ordered laid over until the meeting of June 9th.

A petition signed by Charles L. Genesal and about one hundred other persons residing at South San Francisco, was presented by Supervisor Hickey asking the board to increase the county school appropriation, so as to make it possible to raise the salaries of the teachers. The petitioners asked that the minimum salary of the teachers of South San Francisco be placed at $100. The petition was ordered filed for future reference.

In connection with the above, Supervisor Brown stated that a delegation of teachers called upon him recently with the impression that the board of supervisors was responsible for the present salaries allowed the teachers in the county. He said he explained that this was not the case and that the supervisors only fixed the school rate in the tax levy from figures submitted to them by the county superintendent of schools. Supervisor Brown stated, however, that he was heartily in favor of the teachers of the county getting a raise in salary and that he would do everything in his power to assist them in getting what they were entitled to.

Chairman MacBain said he was also in favor of the increase and that he was going to insist upon teachers in rural districts now receiving from

SON OF T. C. RICE GAINS HONORS IN AIR SERVICE

The Evansville Press of Indiana in a recent issue contains the following article concerning a former Redwood City boy who has made good in the aviation branch of the U. S. army. He is a son of T. C. Rice, the popular county recorder.

Miss May Cameron, Press reporter, is the first Evansville girl to fly over Evansville in an airplane. She went as a passenger Wednesday morning with Lieut. Geo. K. Rice, army aviator flying for the Victory Loan. Their Curtiss could be seen by downtown crowds doing the tail spins over the Main street district and the loop-the-loop and the wing-over above the river. At one time Lieut. Rice permitted her to guide the plane.

Miss Cameron handled the Victory Loan for The Press. Here's her story: "I was in Evansville and all the country for miles around glided away from me Wednesday morning. I had a sensation of leaving the world, traveling, not to, but just this side, of heaven. And it was heaven in a sense, heavenly to be flying through the air above Evansville some 1000 feet in the Curtiss plane manned by Lieut. George K. Rice, here from St. Louis, Missouri, the Victory Loan.

"One's first sensation upon flying is a prayer to land," Lieut. Ernest Force had said. My first sensation, or rather desire, was to go farther and higher.

Eugene Stevens and John Hall Woods had taken my home a dress and the office telephone numbers and shook hands, gravely with me before we took from the landing field on the Angel farm on Green River road near Washington avenue.

Put on Togs. A belt about six inches wide, was buckled about my waist. I pulled on Lieut. Force's leather coat, adjusted the large goggles and was "all set" to go. I couldn't have jumped out of I had wanted to.

"Contact," called Lieut. Rice from the front of the ship, "as we aviators call the plane." The propeller buzzed around, the engine purred up, and like a giant beetle with the wings of an enormous dragon fly, we rolled along the ground then took the air smoothly and surely upward.

"There was nothing to be afraid of," I thought, and proceeded to enjoy the beautiful farm land spread out in a panorama below us. Here and there persons ran into the back yards from farm houses and looked.

The plane started downward. I knew we were headed downward because the trees grew larger, and I could distinguish pigs and chickens and see children who had run from the house.

their red brick school house to marvel at the great bird. We began to wobble from side to side.

Lieut. Rice throttled down the engine and told me very calmly to remove the tassel of my dress from the lever wire.

However, not until we had landed about an hour later did he tell me that if the tassel had not been removed we should have dropped without further ceremony into some farm yard.

Lieut. Rice turned on his 90-horsepower engine full blast and up we went. O crowd of onlookers were expecting me to drop out any moment so Lieut. Rice believing that he should establish my reputation as flyer did a 500 foot downward tail spin, as he later said "showing off." I did the stunt too. There wasn't anything else for me to do.

Sailing once more on "level ground" straight flying about 500 feet up—Lieut. Rice casually turned around to note the effect of my first aerial stunt.

I had enough strength in one eye to wink at him, weakly, but assuringly. Also the courage to smile back through the terrific wind "bully."

I knew from that moment on that I might expect any kind of stunts but I didn't protest. I found it much more thrilling to turn head over heels in the air than my first somersault as a child.

The little white hand on the height indicator flickered far past the 1500-foot-up mark and we became lost in the clouds, lost as far as I knew in a white nothingness with a cold, cold wind raging past.

Rice told me later that we did some "loops" and "wing-overs" over the river about 10:30 a. m. as we came down from the clouds.

I knew we did something because something eluded my heart and I had an empty feeling and I thought a lot about "Now I lay me"—but after the first loop, the thrill was fascinating.

Several times I wondered what the folks on earth standing directly under us thought when we spun down toward them.

I even speculated on what would happen to them if we didn't stop spinning.

Back to the landing field, tail spinned down and sliding on the ground again with marvelous ease—we stopped.
